

WOODGROUP SA INC
SERVICE AWARD 2010
Graham Reed

www.woodgroupsa.org.au

Graham has served on the Exhibition Committee for more than five years and has become a major player in the planning and execution of two exhibitions per year. He is always willing to be part of setting-up and dismantling the exhibitions, as well as supervising exhibits.

The existing exhibition display stands had seen their useful days and were in much need of replacement. Graham has, of his own volition, with energetic pursuit and a great deal of consultation with stakeholders, “driven” the design and construction of new display stands for use by Woodgroup SA at all of its exhibitions. The quality of Graham’s construction work is outstanding and he has traveled many kilometers to source materials at the lowest possible cost. Of special significance is a feature of the new stands in that they “clip” together thus saving much of our volunteer’s time in setting up and dismantling. No bolts, nuts or screws in the processes.

In spending large amounts of his time in design and construction he has created high quality display stands that will considerably improve Woodgroup SA’s image, at a fraction of the cost of commercial items

Perhaps most significant is that Graham responded to the obvious need for replacement of the display stand, initiated action and pursued a solution with a huge contribution of his time and effort. The stands were first used at the Burnside Council Chambers Exhibition during December and January.

Congratulations Graham. Woodgroup SA recognizes your valuable service with this award.
